Brewer Demands Enforcement Of Prohibition Law

Anheuser-Busch Co. Demands Law Be Enforced or Scratched Off Books.
PLUG UP LIQUOR LAW LEAKS
Anti-Saloon League Asks Congress to Halt Importation of Liquors.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Washington.—One of the biggest brewers Thursday demanded stricter enforcement of the prohibition law and a ban on beer as a medicine.

A congressional investigation into charges that many breweries are being allowed to make real beer, despite the Volstead law, was asked before the house judiciary committee by representatives of Anheuser-Busch, St. Louis brewers.

The Anti-Saloon league, through Wayne E. Wheeler, its counsel, demanded that all manufacture and importation of liquors must be stopped until the present supply of 40,000,000 gallons remaining in the country is practically exhausted for nonboverage uses.

Wheeler, urging that the bill be passed as written, ridiculed the position of former Attorney General Palmer that beer is medicine and can be prescribed in unlimited quantities.

The Volstead supplement is necessary, he said, because of loopholes which violate the law.

Supply increases.
In urging an embargo on the manufacture and importation of liquor, Wheeler claimed that the supply on hand in bonded warehouses had actually increased 100,000 gallons during the first three months of this year.

Hearings on the Volstead supplement were commenced Thursday before the house judiciary committee of which Volstead is chairman. The primary object of the drys in demanding legislation in addition to the Volstead law is to administer a knockout blow to the ruling of former Attorney General Palmer that beer is a medicine and may be prescribed in unlimited quantities.

The drys want to make sure the new prohibition commissioner will not put the ruling into effect.

The action Thursday marks the first step toward the amendment of the Volstead law, since it was enacted in October, 1919.

MRS. STRANGE IS AWARDED $2,500 IN HER $50,000 SUIT

Jury Returns Verdict After Long Deliberation—New Trial Is Started.

Mrs. Jane C. Strange of Menasha, was awarded a verdict of $2,500 in her $50,000 damage action against F. J. Harwood of Appleton for injuries received in an automobile collision on the Brighton beach rd., Sept. 23, 1919.

Mr. Harwood's attorneys offered to settle the case a year ago for $3,500, it was said.

The case went to the jury about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and the verdict was rendered at 9 o'clock. Taking of testimony was completed early in the afternoon.

The case now on trial is a $5,000 damage action which Cyril Wassenberg instituted against the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co. for injuries which he alleges he received while scaling pulpwood on a flat car at Kimberly when other cars were pushed against the one he was scaling.

It is expected the trial will occupy the greater part of Friday. Martin & Martin of Green Bay represent the plaintiff and R. VanDoren of Milwaukee, the defendant.

High Rents Force Tenants to Build New Homes or Move to Hotels.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Chicago.—Hundreds of apartments in Chicago are vacant, due to the excessive rents.

Tenants were unable to pay the increased rents asked on May 1 and moved out. Many sought their furniture, others built or bought homes.

In many cases the landlords have been unable to obtain a new customer at the high rates asked. Rent signs are in front of nearly every apartment in the Gold Coast neighborhood where rents have been increased five and six times in the last few years.

PRE-PRIMARY MEETING PLAN IS VOTED DOWN

MATHESON BILL PASSES
Assembly Gets Bill to Eliminate Useless Phrase From Appointment Law.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Madison.—Nomination of majority and minority candidates for state executive officers by a convention plan, proposed in the Ingalls bill, was defeated in the assembly Thursday by a vote of 51 to 29.

Administration forces lined up solidly against the measure, denouncing it as an attempt to go back to the "old convention system."

Members not aligned with the administration shared similar views, the bill procuring a total of 33 votes out of 79 cast on the motion to return it to committee.

The bill would permit a convention consisting of a delegate from each voting precinct in the state to nominate two candidates for the office of governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general and treasurer. The two candidates would "run off" at a second primary, insuring a majority nomination.

The assembly took final action on the Arnold home rule resolution extending broader powers in self-government to incorporated cities by a vote of 61 to 18.

The measure has been adopted by two successive legislatures and will be submitted by a vote of the people at the next general election on a referendum ballot, as it requires an amendment to the constitution.

The Matheson prohibition enforcement bill was placed on final passage without serious opposition. The vote stood 57 to 19 in favor of the measure, which carried with it an appropriation of $60,000 to the prohibition commissioner.

The bill now goes to the governor. It is generally believed about the capital Governor Blaine will sign the bill.

The special legislative committee on consolidation of boards, bureaus and commissions proposes to repeal a useless law in a bill introduced in the assembly Thursday.

$40,000 STOLEN IN ROBBERY OF WISCONSIN BANK

Banks at Sullivan, Augusta and Allen Are Entered by Bandit Gangs.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Sullivan, Wis.—Daylight is believed to have forced the bandits who robbed the State bank here of from $35,000 to $40,000 in securities to make their escape before gaining entrance to the bank vault proper.

The sheriff of Jefferson county believes the yeggs escaped to Milwaukee in two automobiles.

The men after gaining entrance to the bank drew the window shades and turned on the lights. The robbery was not discovered until bank employees arrived for work in the morning. Liberty bonds stolen were registered, the sheriff stated.

Two Banks Entered
Milwaukee.—Burglars some time Wednesday night entered state banks at Sullivan and Allen, Eau Claire county, according to information received here Thursday by George D. Bartlett, secretary of the Wisconsin Bankers' association.

The gang is said to have visited Sullivan in three automobiles and after cutting a hole through the bank roof, burned a hole in the vault with an acetylene torch. The torch set fire to valuable papers in the vault which were either destroyed or badly damaged.

It is thought the gang must have fought the fire for some time before giving up efforts to crack the safe. No valuables were obtained, according to reports.

It was thought here the same gang entered the State bank at Allen, which is on a rural route out of Augusta.

Chicago.—Five bandits held up Carl Lauer, State Commercial and Savings bank messenger, and William Lusk, policeman, Thursday and secured $7,000.

Find Body of Green Bay Girl in River

Green Bay, Wis.—E. R. Schneider, president of the Green Bay and Marinette Lumber company, Thursday identified the body of a girl found floating in the Fox river as that of his daughter, Henrietta, 16 years old.

JUDGE'S DEATH IS PUZZLE TO POLICE

By United Press Leased Wire.
Tulsa, Okla.—Judge John Devaraux, 70, former member of the state supreme court, died here Wednesday night under mysterious circumstances.

He was found unconscious in a local hotel Monday night, apparently under the influence of drugs.

A deep gash was over his right eye. Friends ordered him removed to a hospital.

Efforts of physicians to revive him were unsuccessful and the aged jurist succumbed last night, without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Jesse James and Miss Goldie Gordon, who police said occupied the judge's apartment here for a month, are held.

Mrs. James claimed she had been employed as the judge's nurse.

As is customary in cases of suicide. He stated that the case is still an "open question." Dr. Leary believes, however, that McGilvray killed himself.

As a result of the strong belief of friends and relatives that McGilvray was murdered, it was believed that an inquest may be held.

Underwriters were authorized Thursday to remove McGilvray's body from the city morgue and prepare it for shipment to his home at Madison, Wis.

Before his arrival here Prof. McGilvray wired friends to deny that McGilvray committed suicide adding that he had positive information to the contrary. He had not divulged the information Thursday that led him to believe his son was murdered.

NO BREAK IN G. O. P. RANKS, LODGE SAYS

By United Press Leased Wire.
Washington, D. C.—President Harding has been assured by republican leaders of the senate that reports of senatorial dissatisfaction over America's reentrance into the councils of the allies are greatly exaggerated and that no considerable number of Republican senators are disturbed over it.

Senator Lodge, Republican leader in the senate and Senator Curtis, Lodge's chief lieutenant, called at the White House to convey this assurance personally to Harding, it was learned.

So important did Curtis consider the matter that he hurried to the president in advance of Tuesday's cabinet meeting to prevent the "break" between Harding and Republican senators being discussed by the cabinet.

German mine owners returning from a trip into Upper Silesia declared the Poles have secreted explosives in the mines, threatening to blow them up if the insurgents are compelled to retire.

German mine owners returning from a trip into Upper Silesia declared the Poles have secreted explosives in the mines, threatening to blow them up if the insurgents are compelled to retire.

Wants Strong Cabinet
Berlin.—Chancellor Julius Wirth Thursday devoted most of his time to completing his hastily formed cabinet.

Wirth apparently did not agree with those who believed his ministry is to be short lived. He continued his search for strong men to relieve him of his duties as foreign minister and minister of finance.

The latter post was filled, but with several other members of the cabinet that appointee probably will be replaced.

Chicago.—Shotgun squads were patrolling the "bloody nineteenth" ward Thursday to prevent further outbreaks in the feud, which resulted in the ambush of Tony D'Andrea, "Little Italy's" chieftain.

D'Andrea, whose body was riddled with bullets in front of his home early Wednesday, was reported slowly dying at the hospital Thursday.

POLES DEFEATED IN BATTLE WITH GERMAN TROOPS

Chancellor Wirth Looking for Strong Men for New German Cabinet.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Berlin.—Polish insurgents suffered heavy losses in an attempt to take the Upper Silesian city of Kosel from German irregulars and Italian soldiers, according to dispatches here Thursday.

The Poles were said to have lost 500 killed and wounded.

The fighting at Kosel was severe. Both "armies" were equipped with light artillery with which they did much damage.

Offered by members of the Italian detachment, the Germans cut great holes in the insurgents' ranks with accurate artillery fire. The Poles were less successful.

Dispatches here said Polish officials are anxious for an armistice which would leave the insurgents in possession of the territory they have seized.

Members of the water commission visiting the filtration plant, and workers in the Atlas mill saw the accident and notified the police.

Officers Edward Ratzman and John Kobussen responded hurriedly with the ambulance. The body of the unconscious man was lifted from the river. Breathing had stopped but by artificial respiration methods Officer Kobussen removed part of the water from his lungs and started the heart beating again.

Conveying Mr. Koehn to the hospital, a physician was summoned who dressed the injuries and attempted to bring him back to consciousness. The pulmonologist had been sent for from the fire station but was not needed. Death occurred about 8 o'clock.

Mr. Koehn suffered cuts on the right side of his head and on his left hand, in addition to bruises on the body. It is believed that he would have survived his injuries if he had not been thrown into the water.

JOHN KOEHN IS HIT BY TRAIN; FALLS IN RIVER

Early Settler Dies in St. Elizabeth Hospital Before Identity Is Learned.

Struck by a Chicago and Northwestern freight train while walking on the trestle over the Fox river at a point near the Atlas paper mill, John Koehn, 85, one of Appleton's oldest settlers, was knocked off the tracks into the river about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Police officers and mill employees rescued the man from the river and hurried him to St. Elizabeth hospital, but he never regained consciousness and died about 8 o'clock in the evening.

Not until after life had passed from Koehn's body was his identity known and his son, Jacob Koehn, 923 Onida-st., notified of the accident.

The aged man had been living with his son, who is connected with Appleton State bank. Immediately after the accident Chief George T. Prim and Capt. Patrick Vaughn began a search for the man's relatives.

There was nothing on his person to indicate his identity. Policemen and citizens were taken to the hospital. They recalled seeing Mr. Koehn often but could not recall his name.

Half a dozen homes were visited to investigate clues, and about the time the accident victim died it was found that he was Mr. Koehn. Relatives reached his bedside after he had died.

It is said that Mr. Koehn often walked the trestle as did many other people using it as a short cut but always had been careful to avoid the tracks when trains were due or approaching.

In this case he happened to be on the tracks with no opportunity to get out of the way of an approaching train. He was struck and thrown into the river. The body quickly floated several blocks to a point east of the Fox River mill.

War Hero's Father Says Boy Was Slain

By United Press Leased Wire.
Boston, Mass.—Professor Evander B. McGilvray, father of Lieut. Payton C. McGilvray, world war hero, whose body with four bullet wounds in it, was found in an alley, began here Thursday a personal investigation of his son's death.

Prof. McGilvray, who arrived from Madison, Wis., Wednesday night, believes his son was murdered. Thursday the police still maintained that all the information in their hands points to suicide.

Dr. Timothy Leary, medical examiner, in signing McGilvray's death certificate, attributed death to "pistol shot wounds in the head and chest."

Dr. Leary did not use the words "self inflicted" in the death certificate as is customary in cases of suicide.

He stated that the case is still an "open question." Dr. Leary believes, however, that McGilvray killed himself.

As a result of the strong belief of friends and relatives that McGilvray was murdered, it was believed that an inquest may be held.

Underwriters were authorized Thursday to remove McGilvray's body from the city morgue and prepare it for shipment to his home at Madison, Wis.

BODY GUARDS FOR WARD POLITICIANS

Shotgun Squads Patrol "Bloody Nineteenth" to Prevent New War.

By United Press Leased Wire.
Chicago.—Tony D'Andrea, political chieftain of the "bloody nineteenth" ward, died here Thursday as the result of 13 shots that were pumped into his body by gunmen in ambush.

Chicago.—Shotgun squads were patrolling the "bloody nineteenth" ward Thursday to prevent further outbreaks in the feud, which resulted in the ambush of Tony D'Andrea, "Little Italy's" chieftain.

D'Andrea, whose body was riddled with bullets in front of his home early Wednesday, was reported slowly dying at the hospital Thursday.

Guards have been furnished "Diamond Joe" Espino, regarded as the logical successor of D'Andrea, as Democratic leader in the "bloody nineteenth," and Alderman John Powers, who recently defeated D'Andrea in the aldermanic race following a reign of terror during which Lieutenants of both men were shot.

D'Andrea, before he lost consciousness early Thursday confided in Assistant State's Attorney Malato. It is thought the state was furnished some leads as to identity of the assassins.

So complex is feudal situation in the nineteenth ward that police say the shooting may have resulted from a labor war, political rivalries, or a black hand plot.

$1,500,000 LOSS IS CAUSED BY FIRE

Youngstown, Ohio.—Fire early Thursday caused $1,500,000 damage, tied up railroad and traction roads for more than five hours and made scores homeless.

The fire started in the Parish brothers lumber yards, destroyed the company's plant, the Mahoning Valley power house, ten houses, a garage and damaged the Smith Brewing company's plant across the street.

Firemen say oil or gasoline had been poured over lumber in the Parish company yards.

STIFF SENTENCE FOR VIOLATING DRY LAW
Milwaukee.—Five of ten additional men arrested in the roundup of those indicted by the federal grand jury on liquor violation charges, received sentence and fines when arraigned before Federal Judge Geiger late Wednesday.

Alfred Pawinski, proprietor of Marble Hall, was sentenced to eleven months in the house of correction and fined $3,000, the heaviest sentence imposed.

CHARGE WOMAN WITH SLAYING 5 HUSBANDS

By United Press Leased Wire.
Los Angeles, Cal.—Accused of killing five husbands by poisoning them with arsenic, Mrs. Lydia Southard, 28, formerly a waitress in a Los Angeles cafeteria, was arrested in Honolulu Thursday, according to a cablegram from the chief of police there to local officers.

Her arrest came at the end of a long and tangled trail which led from her home in Lebanon, Mo., to the Hawaiian Islands.

Mrs. Southard is accused of killing two husbands in Missouri, one in Butte, Mont., and two in Twin Falls, Idaho.

She is said to have obtained about $10,000 in insurance.

England Tortured by Fear of General Strike
By United Press Leased Wire.
London.—With the British coal strike entering its seventh week, the United Kingdom was tortured by fear of a general strike engineered by the triple alliance.

Radicals among transport and railway workers still hammered at their leaders Thursday to join their allies, the miners, in a sympathetic walkout.

Leaders of the two organizations continued their conference.

Meanwhile the mine strike was having an effect.

The idle totalled 4,000,000 including 1,500,000 miners.

Buy Own Homes
New York.—New Yorkers who can afford it are beating the profiteering landlords by buying their own homes in the suburbs, according to information obtained Thursday from the mayor's committee on rent profiteering.

There is an unusual number of apartments for rent at present, but these are mostly the highest priced ones.

Opposing the prescription of beer as medicine, August A. Busch, president of the Anheuser Busch company, in a statement presented by Remmers, said his motto was "beer for all, or beer for none."

"The failure to enforce the law against beer," Remmers said, "is not only a desperate situation, but a sad commentary on the operation of government when a corporation with an investment of $50,000,000 is forced to come to the nation's capital and beg the government to enforce the laws that destroyed its former business."

FIND STOLEN BONDS AT HOME OF PRIEST

By United Press Leased Wire.
Chicago.—Rev. Anthony Gorrick, New Chicago, Ind., priest, confessed Thursday to cashing coupons on bonds stolen in the million dollar mail robbery at Toledo to pay debts of his little parish.

Rev. Gorrick, in his confession, implicated Miss Wanda Urbani, who was immediately arrested at Toledo, Ohio, according to postal authorities.

Chicago.—Rev. Anthony Gorrick, priest of New Chicago, Ind., near Gary, was arrested Thursday and charged with having in his possession $60,000 worth of Liberty bonds stolen in the Toledo million dollar mail robbery.

Captain Porter, postal inspector, said the bonds were found secreted in Rev. Gorrick's coal shed.

Porter said Rev. Gorrick was suspected when it was learned he had sent an agent to Chicago and Gary banks to cash the bond coupons.

BOOZE RUNNER ORDERED TO IMPLICATE OTHERS

By United Press Leased Wire.
Chicago.—"Mike de Pike" Hettler, convicted booze runner, was ordered by Judge Evans Thursday to draw up a statement, which, Hettler claims, will involve prohibition agents in a million dollar whisky ring.

Hettler and five codefendants were to be sentenced Thursday.

The cases of Hettler and two others were continued until the statement is prepared. Three were sentenced to pay a $2,000 fine.

NO NEED TO BE THIRSTY WHILE GOING TO EUROPE

By United Press Leased Wire.
Washington.—Federal Prohibition Commissioner John F. Kramer Thursday said he is investigating reports that many big American owned passenger steamships have been operating bars outside the three mile limit.

That ships apparently can violate the Volstead law with little fear of prosecution was disclosed here Thursday by statements of Kramer and other government officials.

It is only necessary to close the bars at the three mile limit to avoid prosecution.

Senator Mulberger said the bill would make marriages harder to contract and the state ought to make them easier.

The bill was killed by a vote of 29 to 4.

800 STUDENTS TAKE PART IN LAWRENCE SING REVIVAL

About 800 Lawrence students gathered around the steps of Main hall at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening for the All College "Sing," which was led by Miss Vera Chamberlain. All of the old songs were sung and a number of new ones were learned. A piano was placed upon the porch and music was furnished by Dorothy Brigham, Fenwick Pugh and Edwin Johnson. The "sing" was concluded with a group of Lawrence favorites. The custom of singing on the campus at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening is to be revived. A similar "sing" is to be one of the features of the May day program.

MOOSE PLAN FISHING PARTY FOR SUNDAY

Members of the Loyal Order of Moose will set their alarm clock for about 3 o'clock Sunday morning to make certain they will awaken in time to attend the first fishing party of the season. Automobiles will leave Pythian-Moose hall at 4 o'clock in the morning bound for Winneconne and Fremont. The fishermen will leave here together but will divide in two parties enroute.

A fish fry is to feature the meeting next Tuesday evening when a class of candidates will be initiated.

Light" by the chorus and by a beautiful solo by Mrs. Roberts. Mr. Chase announced, because of the crowded day Sunday, Mothers day would be observed Thursday evening. There will be beautiful decorations and a program especially suited to the occasion. Flowers will be presented to the oldest mother present. Those who are able to furnish cars to carry guests of honor to the chapel were requested to notify the Rev. A. L. McMillan, and every one attending was requested to wear a flower, as on Mothers day.

Numerous meetings were held Wednesday, the evangelistic party holding their usual full schedule. The "Cheerful Boosters" enjoyed an hour of song and review of their work and were further mystified by some of Mr. Chase's sleight of hand. At the close of their session they gathered on the front steps of the First Methodist church and had a group picture taken. The married women held their last meeting with Mrs. McCombe in the Evangelical church.

Dr. J. H. McCombe spoke in Lawrence chapel Wednesday night, on "Hairbreadth Escapes," taking his text from Hebrews II, 3, "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" He said that some men find it hard to escape from business even when on a vacation, while others find it difficult to escape from their denominationalism and others from their selfishness into self-forgetfulness. He pictured some hairbreadth escapes that he had known and made especially realistic his representation of a tight-rope walker crossing Niagara Falls. Then he said:

"This text sets forth the folly of neglecting salvation. Men in barber shops and pool halls used to scoff at religion and glorify 'Bob' Ingersoll. They are neglecting salvation. 'A good test of our religion is what we do with our money. We have squandered billions of money on booze and tobacco. I am not preaching a sermon against tobacco, I am simply telling you how we spend our money. If tobacco is all right for the man in the pew it should be all right for the man in the pulpit, and you wouldn't stand for that. Not a banker in Chicago will employ a boy with tobacco stains on his fingers. The great baseball teams require their men to swear off on cigarettes. But I am just telling you how we spend our money.'

"We spent $970,000,000 last year on amusements. In many cities Shakespearean plays 'will not get a great attendance but 'seventh commandment plays' will. Twenty-four thousand farms in New York state were last year growing to weeds while the theaters in New York city were packed, night after night, from the pit to the 'kods.' We spent $200,000,000 on pet dogs, while multitudes of children were living from the bread line. We spent more money for chewing gum than the combined Christian church, Protestant and Catholic, spent on missions to evangelize the world.

"We are neglecting the things of the kingdom, and 'How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?' When there is danger ahead we have only to neglect, just to do nothing, to be destroyed. The neglect of a bridge-builder cost $7 lives, but that is slight when compared with the act of a man who neglects the things of religion. The first consideration of a man's life is that of accepting the Lord Jesus Christ. And you should do that when you are healthy, when your mind is clear, and not when you are ready to die."

ANOTHER COOK AND BROWN CO. VESSEL IS LOST IN RIVER

Steamer R. C. Brown Sinks Near DePere Following Explosion and Fire.

Cook and Brown Lumber Co. of Oshkosh suffered the loss of another vessel when the paddle-wheel steamer, R. C. Brown, was sunk following an explosion and fire in the Fox River near DePere early Wednesday morning. Two members of the crew were badly burned and several other men narrowly escaped with their lives: The vessel was the property of the same company which owned the Tug Marston and Barge No. 8 which nearly went over the lower dam here last week.

Members of the crew were unable to give a reason for the explosion which was heard for several miles and brought farmers to the rescue of the craft. The boat spun around several times before sinking in about 12 feet of water. Members of the crew

Accepting the invitation of the New London post of the American Legion, the executive committee members of Oney Johnston post will go to the neighboring city Thursday evening to attend a banquet and booster gathering. Attorney Patrick H. Martin of Green Bay, is to be the principal speaker. Members of the Appleton post will give brief talks on organization, telling of the methods used here.

threw planks overboard, lashed them together and made a raft which conveyed them to shore. Injured men had to be helped out of the boat which was rapidly sinking.

Every member of the crew received a ducking and several were slightly burned. Two men are in a hospital in Green Bay where physicians say they stand a good chance to recover. Luke LaBorder was skipper of the vessel. It is probable the cause of the explosion will not be ascertained until the boat is raised.

Henry Reuter left Wednesday morning for Milwaukee on business. Miss Eleanor Patzer of the First National bank, is enjoying a vacation for two weeks.

MUST FIND WAY TO OVERCOME RAVAGES OF FACTORY DUST

Wisconsin Physicians Discuss Ways of Conserving Health of Workers.

"Health Problems in Industry" was the subject discussed at a joint meeting of the Wisconsin Industrial Physicians and Surgeon attending the fourth annual Industrial Service conference here Wednesday morning. Dr. Robert Minahan of Green Bay, presided.

In dealing with "The Kind of Service Actually Rendered by Plant Physicians in Wisconsin," Dr. Sider of the Federal Rubber Co., Milwaukee; Dr. A. L. Curtin, Milwaukee; Dr. Johnson of the A. O. Smith Co., Milwaukee; Dr. S. H. Wetzel, Milwaukee; Dr. Waite of the International Harvester Co., Milwaukee; Dr. H. G. Oakland, Milwaukee, and Dr. J. E. Mathews, Milwaukee, compared ideas on the health problem in industry.

Dr. Minahan spoke with much emphasis on the careless practices in factories and put much weight on the fact that the wage earners, who make up only one-third of the population, are furnishing one-half of the deaths from tuberculosis. He attributed this to the "dust of occupation."

"Forty-two percent of the printers, lithographers and pressmen die from tuberculosis as a result of dust which they inhale," said Dr. Minahan. "These men are strong and robust, yet in the pursuit of their work they fall prey to the dust of occupation."

"In all walks of life we must avoid dust. It is the duty of health officers to look after things. The greatest thing we can do to prevent disease is to get away from the dust of the industrial plant. It will not only be for our own good but for the good of humanity in general."

The revelation of the medical requirements for men seeking employment in factories, especially in and around Milwaukee, showed that policies of the various concerns differed greatly.

In some instances it was cited that men troubled with such ailments as hernia, were rejected and in other instances such men were given every chance to make good, especially in the departments in which they were best fitted.

"The main duty of physicians," said Dr. Oakland, Milwaukee, "is accident prevention. A great deal of suffering can be averted through investigation by physicians. It is our duty to go into this thing carefully."

MISS BURKE HEADS NEW VALLEY CLUB

Miss Mabel Burke, home economics instructor at the vocational school, was elected president of a new organization called the Fox River Valley Home Economics club, at a meeting of instructors in Oshkosh. Miss Belle Rogers, Oshkosh, is secretary. Miss Amy Anthes was a member of the committee which nominated the officers.

About 35 teachers from high and vocational schools of the valley attended. Addresses were delivered by Miss Helen Goodspeed, state director of home economics in public schools, and Miss Margaret Johnson, state vocational director of home economics. Several Oshkosh teachers also spoke and part of the time was spent in visiting the departments of the Beach manual training school.

Meetings are to be held three times a year and the next is to be in Appleton.

T. B. CATTLE TO BE BARRED FROM FAIR

More and Better Cattle Exhibits Are Proposed for Hortontville Fair.

Only cows that have been tested for tuberculosis are eligible for exhibition at the Hortontville fair this fall as a result of action taken by the Hortontville Fair association at a meeting Monday evening in Hortontville. Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent of the First National bank, conferred with members concerning a revision of the cattle premium list and the entrance of more animals.

Lining up with the movement for disease-free cattle is considered one of the best steps that could be taken by the fair association, and will set an example for all other fairs in this vicinity. Many breeders with famous animals refused to exhibit in the past for fear of exposing their cattle to the disease. Much better exhibits are expected under the new arrangement.

GERMANY ACCEPTS

The new government of Germany has done what any other government would have had to do in the full and complete acceptance of the allied ultimatum. There was no other course open to the nation, whether its government was administered by this premier, this party, or that reichstag. It would have been folly for Germany to reject the ultimatum. Being in no position to resist, and facing the certainty of a military occupation that would have been effective for the purposes sought, further stubbornness or evasion would have been attempted at heavy cost.

The period for negotiations had passed. The recent months afforded Germany the requisite opportunity to dicker for more favorable terms and she employed them to the best of her ability. If she was unsuccessful in obtaining any very substantial concessions the failure must be ascribed to the weakness of her cause and of her arguments for relief. The fact that the ultimate demands of France had the sympathy and approval of Great Britain and the United States is sufficient proof that they were reasonable. Subtle methods were used to break up allied solidarity, but without avail. Fortunately for the peace and stability and speedy reconstruction of Europe they stood together and the United States stood with them.

The world is not particularly interested in the terms of the reparations agreement. It recognizes first that no terms can be too severe which Germany is capable of meeting, and second that genuine determination to pay her obligations is the sole test of her ability. Proof of good faith in the discharge of the reparations agreement is the one thing that must be demonstrated beyond the peradventure of doubt. There may be a gentlemen's agreement that they will be reduced if necessary. Germany must now settle down to business, make a definite calculation of her requirements and work with all her science and will to meet them. It will be known to the world whether she does this or not. She cannot conceal insincerity or subterfuge. It must be an honest to goodness performance of duty. If she goes to her task with bitterness, thoughts of revenge or with hope of "beating" her creditors, she will not only fail in her obligations, but she will make no real progress toward the restoration of her economic and political strength.

Germany is in need of the stimulating and elevating forces that can come only from a great moral decision to do what is right and necessary. She must turn her back upon the past and look to the future. She must pay the penalty of her colossal mistake as best she can, and if she engages in the undertaking, hard as it may seem, with the spirit of atonement and sacrifice restored self-respect uppermost she will find the task less irksome than she expects it to be.

The closing of the reparations controversy opens the way to solid reconstruction in Europe. It prepares Germany for commercial and industrial development, and makes possible a larger resumption of trade throughout the continent and of the physical restoration of France. It lays the foundation for funding Europe's debt and the consequent improvement of credit and exchange. Now if the United States will decide upon a definite and constructive peace policy and associate itself with the allies and Germany on the right basis, it will not be long until the world is well along on the road to permanent recovery from the destructive and paralyzing effects of the World war.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS AT WORK

The report of the death of the League of Nations, which has been so widely circulated by its enemies in this country, seems to be somewhat premature. The various international commissions organized under the League, among the members of which are many of the world's leading statesmen and scientists, are functioning. Their activities represent the first serious, co-ordinated world effort to study and if possible find solutions of the many great international problems.

An interesting idea of the present and forthcoming activities of the League is given in the calendar of meetings, just published by the League secretariat at Geneva. During April a transit conference was held at Barcelona for the purpose of devising ways and means for arriving at a better understanding among the nations in respect of the important matters of communication and transportation. The advisory board of the League's epidemic commission at its Warsaw meeting continued its efforts to stamp out typhus, epidemic in that part of Europe, and threatening to spread if not controlled. The Polish-Lithuanian delegates at Brussels, under a League mediator, made progress toward final adjustment of the many differences between these nations. An office was established at Paris to handle all matters having to do with international public hygiene. Connected with this office are the world's greatest experts on this important subject.

League activities for May include a meeting of the temporary commission on the reduction of armaments at Geneva; a meeting of the international blockade commission; the second division of the commission on amendments to the League covenant; a meeting of the opium advisory committee, which is undertaking to put an end to this vile traffic; the first meeting of the temporary health committee, which will undertake to formulate a code of health for the world.

Early in June the council of the League will meet at Geneva and later in the month, at the same place, will be held a meeting of the International Conference on White Slave Traffic. Finally, on Sept. 5, the opening session of the second assembly of the league will be held at Geneva. At this meeting reports of the many league commissions will be received, discussed and acted upon, and further plans for international cooperation formulated.

It has yet to be shown by those who scoff at the League as a useful thing that it is not meeting its great obligation to the peoples of the world in an intelligent and courageous way.

HORACE MANN

Schools all over the country are this month observing the 125th anniversary of the birth of Horace Mann, educational reformer. He is rated as one of America's great prophets of democracy, for he was the father of the common school as we know it today. When he retired from the practice of law to become secretary of the first state board of education in Massachusetts, friends upbraided him and he replied: "The next generation will be my clients and I will plead their cause."

He pleaded not only the cause of the next generation but also of succeeding generations of children, for the principles of education laid down by Horace Mann still light the way in every school house in the land.

Through his labors there were established in Massachusetts the world's first school for the blind; the first hospital for the cure of the insane and the first normal school. Later he became president of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O., and made it the first college in which women were permitted to take the same courses of study as men.

"Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity," said Mann. In many cities public school buildings have been named after him and in every public library are numerous works by and about Horace Mann.

GERMANS RETURN WAR TROPHIES

Paris.—Germany can't even have the fun of showing off the trophies she captured when she invaded France in 1870.

Sixteen freight cars loaded with these trophies have reached Mayence on their way from Berlin here.

One hundred and twenty-three old French cannons are part of the loot.

The trophies are being returned in accordance with the Versailles treaty.

SORE EYES AND VISION

Ordinary acute conjunctivitis (inflammation of the membrane lining the eyelids covering the eyeball) does not impair the eyesight. Even severe epidemic inflammation of the eyes (often called "pink eye") does not seriously impair vision. It is the clear covering of the sight (the cornea) from cataracts or other foreign bodies or from wounds, often leave serious impairments of vision, by reason of distortion of the cornea and the globe of the eye from scar tissue.

The severe purulent or pus-producing inflammation of the eyes of the newborn caused by gonorrhea infection and known as ophthalmia neonatorum, if not properly and skillfully treated by the physician or oculist, is likely to lead to blindness. This disease is the cause of the blind in about one-fifth of all the blind in public institutions—the innocent snap for the punishment which the guilty parent has, for the moment, escaped.

In certain parts of the country a very contagious, chronic, slowly progressive eye inflammation is prevalent, commonly called "red sore eyes," "granulated eye lids" and known to physicians as trachoma, which always impairs vision more or less, and sometimes terminates in total blindness. In this condition there is usually more or less pain felt on the eyes, sensitiveness to light, sticking together of the eyelids mornings and irritation of the lining of the lids.

It must not be supposed that every obstinate lid inflammation in which the lids are called "granulated" is trachoma, for granulations occur in other eye inflammations which are not of serious import. But in districts where trachoma occurs, routine examination of school children by the health authorities or school physicians often reveals early or mild cases of trachoma among the children.

Sometimes trachoma begins acutely, like ordinary conjunctivitis or sore eyes, and the trouble persists even after the usual duration (a few days) of the ordinary conjunctivitis, and is not amenable to the simple remedies which relieve ordinary conjunctivitis, such as cold moist compresses and frequent bathing of the eyelids with boric acid solutions.

Free hospitals for trachoma patients have been established in Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia and North Dakota, where the disease happens to be especially frequent, through the interest of the United States Public Health Service and the various State Health Departments. Every health officer is prepared to give information about such free hospitals.

The treatment for trachoma is usually surgical, and is carried out through a considerable period, so that some sort of arrangement must be made for prolonged supervision of the patient.

The disease is probably spread through personal contact with one having trachoma, and also by the use of the same towel. It was probably brought to America by the immigrants from the poorer sections of Europe many years ago, before the present rigid eye examination of immigrants at the seaport became so efficient in detecting and excluding those who had evidences of trachoma.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Drugs Are Necessary
I was glad to read your article in which you told me to find a medical man with enough sense and honor to tell the truth about drugs.

ANSWER—I've never asserted that strychnine is useless. I did say that it is useless for laymen to trifle with such a drug, and that it certainly doesn't add strength to the body. At the present time I am administering strychnine and other drugs to a patient who is dear to me. I am a thorough believer in the value of drugs—intelligently employed. Please do not misunderstand me when I refer to the indiscriminate use or abuse of drugs by persons ignorant of their action or effects.

Potassium Iodide
Is iodine of potassium harmful to the system if taken for a somewhat extended period to enrich and revitalize the blood of a person who is weak and has that "all in" kind of feeling? (P. B.)

ANSWER—Potassium iodide doesn't enrich or revitalize the blood. It rather tends to destroy blood cells. It is certainly unwise to take potassium iodide over a lengthy period unless under the direction of your physician.

Wetting the Hair

Is it bad for the hair to wet it with water every time one brushes it? If so, what can be used to make unruly hair lie down and behave? (P. W.)

ANSWER—Yes. Better use a little oil. Liquid petrolatum is good. Or sesame oil, in each instance of which five grains of powdered benzoin and three drops of absolute alcohol have been digested for three hours over a water bath, is still better. A few drops of such oil every day should keep the hair in manageable condition.

WE DON'T BELIEVE A SETTING'S FOR SALE
Douglas, Ariz.—The goose that laid the golden egg had nothing on the hens that laid the eggs in the crate confiscated by officials here.

Between each row of eggs in the crate was a row of slim pint bottles of Mexican mezcal. It must have been the hens, of course, for S. B. Price, rancher, who was in charge of the crate when it was seized, said he didn't know anything about the mezcal.

The Advertising Farmer

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—Advertising in the newspapers offers a way out of present difficulties for many farmers, in the opinion of students of the arm-marketing problem, of which few of them are taking advantage.

It is noticeable that merchants and manufacturers are advertising more and more of their goods, and a falling scale of prices are not cutting down on their advertising. Many of them on the contrary, have increased their advertising.

Students of the arm-marketing problem, of which few of them are taking advantage. It is noticeable that merchants and manufacturers are advertising more and more of their goods, and a falling scale of prices are not cutting down on their advertising. Many of them on the contrary, have increased their advertising.

This is a fact which the farmers, as a class, are just beginning to grasp. The farmer, for the most part, produces staple raw materials which may always be sold at a market price by merely hauling them to the nearest market. Unlike the merchant and the manufacturer, he does not face a competition which is capable of driving him from the market, nor does he have to create a demand for his product. A bushel of potatoes is always worth something, and people will always need potatoes.

The Farmer's Position
So the farmer has reasoned in the past. He ranks among the producers of fundamental necessities. In fact, he produces the most fundamental necessities of all. Only wood, steel and other basic materials of industry can compare with food in this regard. The producers of steel do not advertise. The demand for steel is constant, just as the demand for food. But the producers of steel and most of the other basic materials of American industry are organized and do control the prices of their products. That is the great difference between them and the farmers. If the potato growers were organized, they would be in the same strong position as the producers of iron and petroleum and lumber. But the farmer is in no such position. He has almost no control over the market price of the staple commodities which he produces.

Some efforts are now being made by farmers to obtain such control by holding crops and by making agreements as to how much of a given commodity shall be produced. These efforts will doubtless grow in strength and extent, but so far they have not produced any striking results, as is shown by the present economic situation of the farmer, who is bearing the brunt of the fall in prices.

What advantages has the farmer to counter-balance these disadvantages? He has all of the rights of free competition, if he will only use them. He has the right to produce anything he pleases, and sell it anywhere he can for the best price he can obtain. For example, the price of corn may be down, but if he can produce a high grade of seed corn and advertise it in such a way that he can convince others of its excellence, he may be able to sell it for a very

The Junior member of the firm of SUPPLY and DEMAND is undergoing an operation.

People generally suppose that when the demand is heavy—that the price is high.

Yet conditions that face the clothing buyer in this store—are not running true to type.

The demand for our suits this Spring exceeds even that of a year ago—still the prices are lower and the value stronger than the people of this vicinity have seen for years.

How do we account for it? Easy. The demand per day is the result of the value we supply per dollar.

Sounds reasonable—so do our prices.

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright 1920)

THE BOOK OF MARTHA

Effect Of The Mind On Health

Making out a budget didn't quite satisfy Ann's big yearning for New Year reform.

"Let's make another resolve!" she suggested much as a little girl would say. "Let's play another game!"

I seized the chance for I had long wanted to jack up Mistress Ann in a certain way.

"Well, there's your health, Ann. It's your big beauty asset, you know, and you haven't been getting enough sleep lately!"

"Nope! And I don't eat yeast! I suppose I ought to!" she exclaimed. "Everybody's talking about eating yeast. Let's do it!"

"Do as you please," I laughed. "Your portion is three cakes a day, I understand. And it will be a lot better for you than candy. But really, Ann, I wasn't talking about the yeast cure."

"What then?" Ann's eyes grew round in the childish way she affects. "Have you a brain, Ann?"

"Dunno!" Ann rapped upon her skull. "Can't hear it rattle!"

"Let's take our brains for granted," I laughed, "and in 1921 let's consider them worth 'crossing up' with new ideas occasionally."

"What's that got to do with my health?"

"Lots: Because our bodies ought to obey our minds. Most of us let our bodies rule our minds."

"You make me think of a translation I had in the French class yesterday. It was hard, so I remember it: 'Form the habit of taking no more heed of the desires stirring within us than we do of the flies buzzing around us.'"

"Out of the mouths of babes!" said myself to myself. And aloud I said: "That's simply great!" But I was thinking of Chrys' new fad. She says that if you're torn by conflicting interests, perhaps by divided love, your nerves get tense, and your circulation is impeded, and your digestion is upset, and you may develop symptoms of catarrh or dyspepsia or most any disease.

"So people actually can die of love?"

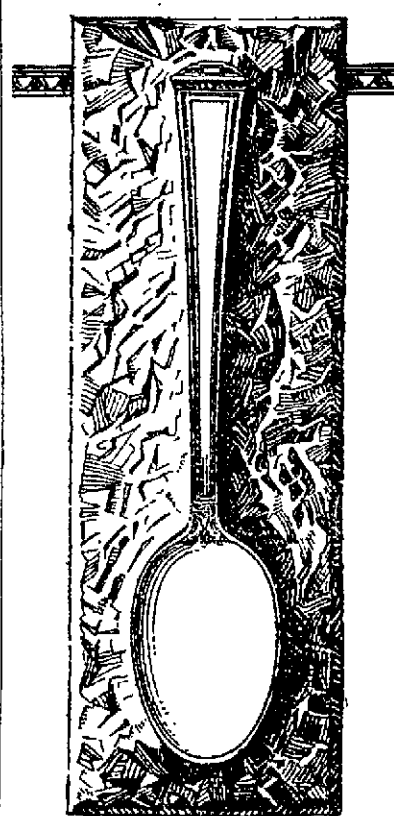

"Oh if you read the discovery of a secret—something disgraceful—that you want to hide—" I spoke slowly because I wanted Ann to understand that I was referring to her flirtation with Van—"why, probably you'll keep your hands clenched, and the muscles of your throat will be strained, and if you're crammed with secrecy, or resistance, or rebellion, you'll get very sick indeed!"

"Jane, I guess I'd better tidy up my brain a little for the New Year," Ann spoke so soberly that I felt I had made a big hit with her. Then she asked abruptly:

"How's Bob?"

It occurred to me that Ann must know something about Bob's big secret.

REJECT ALL BIDS FOR STREET PAVING

Kaukauna People Ask Council for New Street—Boy Scout Meeting.

Kaukauna.—Resolutions rejecting all bids for paving with brick, concrete, asphalt, tarvia or other pavements on both north and south sides of the river were adopted by the common council at a meeting Wednesday night in city hall.

A committee representing owners of property along upper Duscharme st. asked the city to prepare a road for the convenience of those living in that section. At present there is only a part of a road.

To paving the road requires the moving of fences which stand along the territory which should be occupied by the highway. The members of the committee stated that the property owners were willing to move their fences and to give up the land necessary for the highway.

As soon as that is done the council agreed to make the road.

HEALTH WEEK ENDS FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Interesting Address to Be Delivered This Evening. Party for Guest.

Kaukauna.—One of the important meetings of health week will be held Thursday evening at 7:30 in the vocational school when Dr. C. D. Boyd speaks on the importance of keeping children up to normal standards of health. In connection with the address Dr. Emerson's famous film on the undernourished child will be shown. Mothers of children found undernourished by the Red Cross nurse will find this meeting especially helpful.

A baby's clinic was conducted Wednesday afternoon by Dr. Taylor of the children's hospital of Milwaukee. Dr. Taylor was obliged to leave early in the afternoon and the work was completed by Drs. C. D. Boyd and G. F. Flanagan. About 50 babies were brought by their mothers to be weighed and examined.

The final meeting of the week will take place at 2:30 Friday afternoon when Miss Russell, Chicago, nutrition specialist, speaks before the mothers. Her subject will be on the importance of proper foods.

Several leaders in the health week movement are of the opinion that a clean-up week should be observed in the city following health week. No definite action is being taken in this matter but the question will be discussed and it is probable that such a campaign will be conducted.

Party for Guest

A party was given Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. J. J. Herb of St. Catherine, Canada, who is visiting relatives in this city. Cards were played and prizes were won by Mrs. William Klammer and George Rupert. Consolation prizes were awarded to Mrs. Herb and Arthur Deno. Lunch was served at 11 o'clock.

Girls! Win $300.00 For Slogans!

Do You Know Anything About Beautiful Eyes? Say in One Line and Win the Money.

Good catch lines, or slogans, are already coming in, like "Orbitone always means beautiful eyes."

"Beautiful brows and lashes in every jar of Orbitone." "Orbitone eyes win."

Girls, get out your pencils and see what you can do in a few moments time. Your catch line may win the money.

The prize money of $300.00 is offered by the Orbitone Laboratories Company, 1259 North Clark Street, Chicago, for the best advertising slogans on Orbitone. For the best slogan $100.00 in gold will be paid; for the next best, $75.00; for the third best $50.00. In addition to this, three prizes of $25.00 each will go to others on the general merits of their slogans.

The winning slogans will be adopted for advertising purposes. This contest closes June 30th, 1921. It is open only to the girls and women of the State of Wisconsin.

Slogans should not be over eight words in length, the fewer the better.

Each slogan must be written on the inside of the top of an Orbitone carton, the part containing the girl's head. This is necessary so that we may know that you have used Orbitone and can appreciate its merits, thus enabling you to write a really snappy slogan. Merely write the date, the slogan, and your name and address, and send it to the Orbitone Laboratories Company.

You may send in as many slogans as you wish, but each slogan must be written on a separate carton head.

The judges will be the advertising manager of the Orbitone Laboratories Company, and two representatives of the Read Advertising Agency of Chicago.

Orbitone is a delicately scented cream which quickly promotes the growth of eye brows and lashes. It is made in three shades: Light, Brown and Dark. The Brown and the Dark instantly darken, as well as promote the growth.

Orbitone is absolutely harmless. It positively will not stiffen or break the lashes; but will promote a really beautiful set of brows and lashes.

Caution!—Do not accept substitutes. Accept only the genuine Orbitone. Better safe than sorry. Price 50 cents.

You can also use Orbitone cartons for submitting slogans. Write your slogan on the inside of the front of carton (containing the girl's head). Orbitone is the Original Eye Sparkler. A few drops in your eyes will make them sparkle like jewels. Orbitone (pronounced Or-lao-o) is absolutely harmless; in fact, there is nothing better for weak, watery, tired, itching eyes. It instantly refreshes and strengthens. Price 50 cents.

Orbitone and Orbitone are for sale by J. E. Voigt and well-stocked drug stores everywhere; or these preparations may be had by sending direct to the Orbitone Laboratories Company, 1259 N. Clark, Chicago, on receipt of price.

DISCUSS WOMEN AND CHILDREN AT STATE GATHERING

Wants Higher Age Limit for Children Entering Industrial Field.

Women and children in industry was discussed at the third meeting of the fourth annual Wisconsin Industrial conference in the vocational school Tuesday morning. Hugo L. Vits of the Aluminum Goods Manufacturing Co., Manitowish, presided. Addresses were delivered by Miss Grace Abbott of the immigrant commission of Chicago, and B. E. Elsom of the Boston store, Milwaukee. Miss Abbott urged that the minimum educational standard for children be raised in her address on child labor. She said boys and girls of 14 are quite delicate and urged that the age at which they are permitted to enter industry be increased to 15 or 16. She also pictured the mixing of children who are employed in the factories, with immigrants who before coming to this country were neglected, thousands not even knowing what a school room looked like. "This influence is a bad one," said

We are now in our new location at 819 Morrison St., corner Morrison and Atlantic.—The Christian Assembly, Carl Trittin, Pastor.

Miss Abbott, "and after all when such an element makes up a great share of our population, we have much reason to urge that the child educational standard be raised. We do not want ignorant masses of workers in this country."

Under Big Load
B. W. Elsom, employment manager of the Milwaukee Boston store followed in an interesting talk on "Woman Employees in Stores."

Dwelling upon present conditions in the department store field, Mr. Elsom brought to light the serious problems that confronts the employer. "What is he going to do about his inflated wage scale?" asked Mr. Elsom. "How is he going to meet new business conditions while he is stagnating under the load of abnormally high wages which the last three years have forced upon him?" "To be specific, let us look at conditions as we find them in the department store field. The situation is this: We can say at a conservative estimate that during the last five years the average wage per worker has doubled. And as you are all too well aware, this increase in wage has been accompanied by an average decrease in the productivity of the worker, a lowering of individual efficiency. "The thing has gone on in a vicious circle: wages constantly increasing, commodity prices rising constantly, and individual productivity steadily decreasing. And then, quite suddenly, this cycle was cut short by a general business depression. Industries have been shut down, a great many people have been thrown out of work, and prices have started on a decline which still continues.

CATHOLIC TEAMS PLAY TIGHT BASEBALL GAME

St. Mary school nine defeated Sacred Heart school, 8 to 7, Tuesday afternoon in Jones park as one of the games of the Grade School Baseball league schedule. Zion players won by a score of 6 to 5 from the Third ward team.

Two other games resulted in easy victories for the Columbus-Franklin school and the First ward boys. Columbus-Franklin carried the day by a score of 17 to 6. Their opponents were the Fourth ward school boys. St. Joseph nine lost to First ward, 9 to 1. The game was played on the Fourth ward grounds.

Mrs. Clark Goodland returned Monday night from a several days' visit with friends at Oshkosh.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Trathen of Shawano, visited friends here Monday, and Tuesday.

HALF MILLION WORDS IN ENGLISH LANGUAGE

"The English vocabulary has grown to great size," says Professor Clark S. Northrup, of Cornell University, one of the contributors to The New Universities Dictionary now being distributed by this paper exclusively to its readers; "the number of words found in Old English literature does not exceed thirty thousand; recent dictionaries have listed more than four hundred thousand, mostly of foreign origin. Yet most writers use mainly English words."

"Shakespeare used ninety per cent of English words, the English Bible contains ninety-four per cent; Milton eighty-one per cent; Addison eighty-two per cent; Tennyson eighty-eight per cent. Most of our shortest and simplest words are of native origin."

Floods of coupons continue pouring in for The New Universities Dictionary. The distributing clerks are kept busy. The publishers have been ordered to keep a big supply bound and ready for emergency calls. It looks as though the raid on the supply would soon make a replenishment necessary. Such a rush was not expected, but this paper is greatly pleased to see readers taking such enthusiastic advantage of its educational offer.

Careless Persons Make Life Hard For Flagman

Drivers and Pedestrians Take Unnecessary Chances on Railroad Crossings.

"College-ave. railway crossing has had no serious accidents since Oscar Kunitz and David Brettschneider were struck by a train three years ago," said Frank Murphy, flagman, who is in charge of it during the busy part of the day. Scarcely a week passes, however, that we do not have several hair-breadth escapes," he said.

Because the track crosses the avenue at an angle and because the intersection of Richmond-st. with College-ave., close by, is shielded from train and when the truck was on the track the engine stopped. Instead of jumping to save their lives the young men remained in their seats and got the engine to going again in time to clear the track.

Foolish Drivers
"Drivers who take the greatest chances are those who approach the track at full speed, stop suddenly when they see the train and then attempt to get across ahead of it. Apparently they do not realize the speed of the train and the time it takes to get their car in motion. Invariably, too, the engine stops before the cars get across. The greatest trouble a flagman has is with drivers getting view of approaching trains, the crossing is considered by railway men as one of the most dangerous in the city. It is especially dangerous for strangers and tourists entering the city on Richmond-st., who are not aware of the crossing until they are upon it.

"There is some excuse for strangers having close calls with trains," said Mr. Murphy. "But no excuse whatever for delivery men and residents of the city, who are familiar with the crossing. Motor truck and automobile drivers have a mania for taking chances and it is only a few days ago that the locomotive of a passenger train brushed the rear end of an ice cream delivery truck driven by two young men. The drivers took a chance of getting across the track ahead of the across the track ahead of a train by dodging around him. Occasionally they drive directly towards a flagman and would undoubtedly injure him if he did not get out of the way. I have had that happen several times since I have been on duty here.

"Pedestrians are just as reckless as automobile drivers and take just as many chances. Invariably they hasten to get across the track ahead of a train and then stop and watch it pass. A few weeks ago the engineer of a fast north bound passenger train used the emergency brake to save a person who crossed the track immediately in front of his engine and upon alighting began searching for him underneath the trucks. Looking up he saw him at a distance smiling and for a moment the air was blue with profanity."

MERCHANTS FAVOR A LARGER MARKET SITE

Feeling that the stock fair grounds are too small to accommodate all the farmers who could be induced to come there on market day, the retail trades division of the chamber of commerce voted at its meeting Tuesday to defer the proposed cooperative advertising campaign until later.

The merchants felt that the grounds should be enlarged first to take care of the crowds. It is useless to invite more people to come to the fair if there were no facilities large enough to accommodate them, it was said. A committee is to be appointed by E. A. Schmalz, chairman, to make a survey and see what can be done to bring more people to the city to trade.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Smith left Wednesday for Kansas City where they will make their daughter an extended visit. From there they plan on making an eastern trip that will require the greater part of the summer.

The Rev. and Mrs. B. O. Maschman of Neenah, attended the McComb-Clase meeting here Tuesday evening.

Western Regional Office Will Give Faster Service to Outagamie County Men

Former service men are to be served in a more rapid and efficient manner on disability claims and insurance matters as soon as the government establishes a regional office in line with a plan recently adopted by congress.

Government agencies dealing with disabled service men, including the bureau of war risk insurance, the public health service and others except the department of federal vocational training all have been combined into one organization. The new body still operates under the name of the bureau of war risk insurance, but it is possible that a new name will be chosen when the change is completed. Operation of hospitals remains an independent function.

A middle western regional office will be established shortly. This office will handle all claims for Outagamie co. service men. The change will speed up the system, because local cases need not be sent to Washington for adjustment. They will be handled by the smaller regional office.

Major Max Walner, an officer of the regular army chief's personnel in the bureau is directing the work of amalgamation. The district supervisors met in Washington recently to work out the details of the consolidation.

OPERATES WRONG LEVER; AUTOMOBILE IS WRECKED

Stopping on the accelerator instead of the brake caused an unidentified driver to wreck his machine on Mack-ville-rd. Tuesday evening about two miles north of Appleton. The driver had purchased the machine from Puth garage and one of the employees was teaching him to operate the car.

It is said that the man lost control of his machine while running at a speed of about ten miles an hour. He intended to apply the brakes, but applied the power instead. The automobile went into the ditch. Puth's man seized the steering wheel and managed to turn the car back toward the road enough to prevent a collision with a telegraph pole. The rear end swung against the post, however, causing damage to the amount of about $150. The Puth employee suffered a few scratches but the driver was unhurt.

The NEW LIGHT-SIX now holds the five most important automobile road records on the Pacific Coast, a remarkable feature being that all the honors were won by the same car, a stock touring car, within ten weeks

1. Yosemite National Park. A Studebaker LIGHT-SIX, piloted by Hart L. Weaver and carrying a crew of five men from the Chester N. Weaver Company, was the first automobile to reach the Yosemite National Park over any one of the three snow covered roads under its own power this year. The car went over the narrow and dangerous Coulterville road, bucking snow as deep as ten feet in some places, arriving in Yosemite Valley, January 16.

2. Round Trip Record Between San Francisco and Los Angeles. On February 2 the same car, driven by Hart L. Weaver and James F. Gurley of the Chester N. Weaver Company, established a new round trip record between San Francisco and Los Angeles, a distance of 864.8 miles, in the sensational time of 21 hours and 23 minutes.

3. Coast Route Record from San Francisco to Los Angeles. On the round trip record of February 2 the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX lowered the coast route record from San Francisco to Los Angeles by 2 hours, 35 minutes and 20 seconds. The former record was 12 hours, 47 minutes and 50 seconds, the time of the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX being 10 hours, 12 minutes and 30 seconds for the distance of 453.7 miles. The pilots were Hart L. Weaver and James F. Gurley.

4. Valley Route Record Between Los Angeles and San Francisco. On February 24 the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX smashed the valley route record between Los Angeles and San Francisco, running the distance of 411.1 miles in the remarkable time of 9 hours, 15 minutes and 50 seconds. This record was made all the more remarkable on account of the car having to go through a dense fog a distance of more than 100 miles between Tulare and Merced. The pilots were Hart L. Weaver and James F. Gurley.

5. Los Angeles—Phoenix Record. On the morning of March 23 the LIGHT-SIX left Los Angeles in an attempt to lower the fifth and only remaining record of consequence on the Pacific Coast. The 422 miles of desert trail from Los Angeles to Phoenix were made in 13 hours 16 minutes, and 2 hours 28 minutes were taken from the best previous automobile record. The railroad time is 14 hours 20 minutes, or 1 hour 4 minutes slower than the record established by the LIGHT-SIX.

Hart L. Weaver of the Chester N. Weaver Company, Studebaker Distributors in San Francisco, made the following statement after the completion of the Los Angeles-Phoenix run:

"These tests have demonstrated on the road everything that Studebaker engineers have claimed for the new LIGHT-SIX-cylinder car. When it is remembered that the bore and stroke of this car is only 3 1/4 x 4 1/4, giving it a piston displacement of 207 cubic inches, and that the car fully equipped only weighs 2500 pounds, these records are all the more remarkable since most of them were formerly held by heavier cars costing much more than the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX. I am inclined to believe that the secret of this car's wonderful performance, and roadability is due in a very large measure to its remarkable balance. Halved or quartered the parts of the new LIGHT-SIX would weigh approximately the same."

"In making the Los Angeles-Phoenix record I am frank to confess that despite my faith in the stamina of Studebaker automobiles I could not believe that any car could make the speed over that desert road with its ruts and chuck holes that was necessary in order to lower the record by a large margin without falling to pieces. Any automobile, irrespective of weight, power or price class that can lower the record established by the Studebaker LIGHT-SIX will have my most sincere admiration."

HOLD HEARING ON SANITATION ORDERS

Manufacturers, Welfare Workers and Doctors Improve Working Conditions.

A hearing upon proposed revised orders of ventilation and general sanitation was held by the Industrial Commission at the court house at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and it marked the closing of the fourth annual Industrial Service conference which opened on Monday.

George P. Hambrecht presided over the meeting.

Copies of the proposed revision of the general orders relating to sanitation and ventilation were sent to factory heads, safety experts and welfare workers in all parts of the state and then a public hearing on these proposed orders was held.

It is a practical way to modify orders and Wednesday's hearing was the second on the proposed revision, the first having been held at Milwaukee, April 27. In all probability no further public hearing will be conducted.

The revision was prepared by the advisory committee of the industrial commission on sanitation which is composed of Dr. J. B. MacLaren of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association, Appleton; John P. Gates of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce, Milwaukee, and R. McKee of the state industrial commission, Madison.

One of the revised orders which is of interest to Appleton manufacturers is the change made in minimum cubic feet of air space in factories. The latest order provides that the employer shall furnish every employee at least 400 cubic feet of air space. In computing the available cubic feet of air space, the height of the room shall be taken at not to exceed 11 feet.

A first aid system will be a permanent requirement in every large factory as result of new orders which require that whenever the number of employees exceeds 5, there shall be provided one or more first aid cabinets adequate to meet the needs of the workers.

THE STAGE

Musicians With Philharmonic
The ensemble of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, which plays in Lawrence chapel, May 21, is a unit which plays its present perfection only by years of gradual change. The men have played together for many years, for the most part, and substitutions are made only when young men of exceptional merit are found.

Xavier Renter is a soloist of international reputation on his instrument—the French horn. He is also one of the few orchestral musicians who do not pursue his profession out of season. Instead, during the summer months, he is a farmer on a large scale at Valhalla, N. Y. He has played with the Philharmonic as its leader of the French horns for nine years.

Leo Schmitz is one of the best-known of the Philharmonic's instrumentalists. There are numbers of people, wherever the orchestra plays, who look for Mr. Schmitz and his cello—just to the left of the conductor.

Alfred Megerlin, the Belgian-born concert master of the Orchestra—a pupil of Eugen Tsyba—had a European reputation as a violinist of the first rank before he joined the Philharmonic and added new honors to those he had already won.

The "fish run" special, operated during the summer months to take care of tourist travel to and from northern Wisconsin and upper Michigan will start regular service on the Chicago and Northwestern road June 17, according to information received by railway officials.

This train is to run every day except Sunday between Chicago and Watertown. It will not run through either Appleton or Appleton Junction, but will take the "cut-off" from Oshkosh, going through Larsen, Allenville and Hortonville, thence to Watertown. Appleton sportsmen and tourists wishing to take this train are advised to notify the ticket agent here several days ahead so reservations may be made. The southbound train leaving here at 9:30 in the evening should be taken to Oshkosh to catch the special.

A. J. Theiss returned Wednesday evening from a business trip to Calumet-co.

HOLSTEIN SALE IS SCHEDULED MAY 27

Twenty-eight Leading Breeders Consigning to Second Big Dairy Event.

Outagamie county will have another big dairymen event when the first annual consignment sale of the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders' association will be held at the Outagamie Equity Exchange grounds and is to start at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Arrangements already are well under way. J. E. Mack, Fort Atkinson, one of the best Holstein auctioneers in the midwest, has been engaged. S. E. Cook of Unity will be ring man and Reid Murray of Oshkosh, will read the pedigrees. The sale follows the state auction in Marshfield Thursday, May 26, so a number of buyers are expected here who attended that event.

Fifty cows and seven herd sires, carefully picked by the sales committee last winter, have been consigned by 28 breeders. The consigners are Nicholas Paltzer, W. H. Steffensen, John P. Laux, Walter Wiekert, F. A. Ziegler, Paltzer brothers, Oscar Plamann, J. E. Ballard, Erwin F. Tellock, Joseph Byrne, G. W. Wendt, Edward Mueller, O. J. Gehring, Malaichi Ryan, N. J. Lesseyong, George R. Schaefer, John Tuge, Harvey Hallett and William Plamann, all of Appleton; George R. Sassman and son, Fred Ort and Matthew Huhn, Black Creek; Edward Tellock, Hortonville; Fred Melcher, Krause brothers, Ralph E. Tubbs and James Hittner, Seymour; E. F. Winckler and sons, Medina.

Attorney Lawrence O'Neil of Milwaukee was in Appleton on business Tuesday.

MANY NEW CITIZENS ADMITTED IN WAUSAU

Attorney George N. Danielson of the United States naturalization department was in Appleton Wednesday enroute from Wausau to Green Bay where a 2-day hearing starts Thursday before Judge Henry Grass. One hundred and sixty-seven aliens will be up for naturalization.

A 3-day hearing was held in Wausau and 262 aliens were admitted to citizenship, 5 were denied citizenship and 16 were continued to enable them to learn to talk English and answer questions about their government.

HOLD HEARINGS ON INJURY CASES

Harry A. Nelson, examiner for the Wisconsin industrial commission, and E. H. Bull, reporter, are holding hearings under the workmen's compensation act at the courthouse. Testimony was taken Wednesday morning in the cases of Wilmot Macklin vs. Interlake Pulp & Paper Co., Charles Gollner vs. John Strange Pail Co., and Dorothy Wickham vs. John Strange Pail Co. The case of John D. Cronce vs. Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power Co. was settled.

The plaintiff in the first case alleged he was struck in the head by a bolt; plaintiff in the second case alleged he was injured by a board from a machine striking him in the leg; and Miss Wickham alleged tuberculosis of the wrist as the result of handling pail covers. Cronce was electrocuted and the action against the traction company was brought by his parents.

ARREST MAN IN KENOSHA FOR NEGLECTING FAMILY

Sheriff P. G. Schwartz returned Tuesday from Kenosha, where he arrested Herman Boese who was wanted for neglecting to support his family. Boese was employed in the Nash automobile works.

James Gruenes and Roman LaFond, who were given a five year sentence in the Green Bay reformatory for burglarizing the armory were taken to that institution Tuesday by Undersheriff Earl Schwartz.

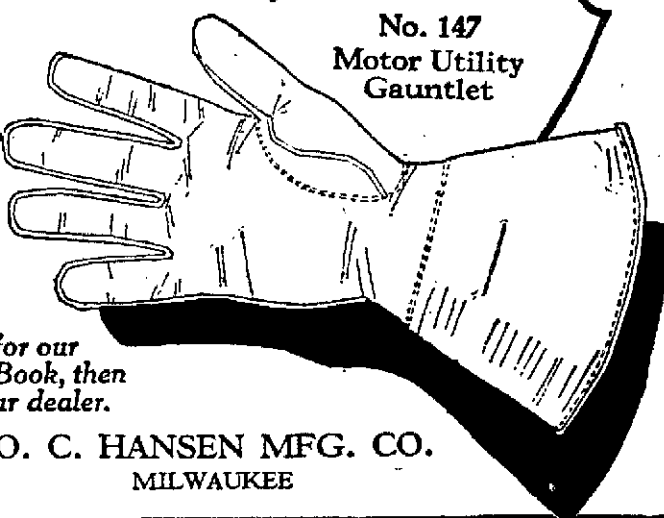

HANSEN GLOVES

When One and One
Make Three

Have the Hansen Motor Utility Gauntlet ready for rough work—changing tires, oiling the car, etc., and save your better glove for motoring or general wear. The two pairs will last as long as three which are worn regardless of the use they were made for. This "Utility"—shown below—is strong but soft, pliable and easily cleaned.

Hansen Gloves are economical because they are especially built for each purpose. Naturally when a glove is made exactly right for certain work it will do that work better, longer and with more comfort to you.

If your need does not call for a special pattern you should have a Hansen general-purpose glove for all-around comfort and economy.

IS NEW THEATER TO BE BUILT HERE?

Rumors are current that Appleton is to have a large new theater patterned after the Capitol, a new show-house opened recently in Manitowoc. Theatrical and trade journals are said to have carried a story that such a structure is to be built here.

It is understood that promoters of the venture have visited Appleton several times in search of a suitable location. The plan is to build either an office building, or a business block with stores at the front. The theatre entrance would be at the front, but the auditorium proper would be toward the back of the building, the same as in the large cities.

One of the reports contains a statement that business men here have organized a theatre for Ascher brothers who manage the Manitowoc house. The Ascher's are understood to be planning a circuit of playhouses in Wisconsin.

Back Feel Lame, Sore and Achy?

Are you lame every morning? Do you drag through the day with a steady nagging backache—evening find you "all played out"? Probably your kidneys are to blame. Hurry, worry, lack of rest and a heavy diet, all tend to weaken the kidneys. Your back gives out; you feel depressed and suffer from headaches, dizziness and kidney irregularities. Don't go from bad to worse. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Home folks recommend them. Ask your neighbor.

Here's an Appleton Case
Oliver G. Feavel, 772 Second Ave., says: "I met with an accident, which laid me up and affected my kidneys and bladder. My back ached and the kidney secretions passed with a burning sensation. The medicine I was taking seemed to give me no relief. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, so I decided to get some. Three boxes made me well." adv.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Schlitz Bros. Co., Voigt's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy to guarantee it in every instance. adv.

YOUNG GIRLS NEED CARE

Mothers! Watch Your Daughters' Health
Health Is Happiness

From the time a girl reaches the age of twelve until womanhood is established she needs all the care the thoughtful mother can give.

The condition that the girl is then passing through is so critical and may have such far-reaching effects upon her future happiness and health that it is almost criminal for a mother or guardian to withhold counsel or advice.

Many a woman has suffered years of prolonged pain and misery through having been the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance on the part of those who should have guided her through the dangers and difficulties that beset this period.

Mothers should teach their girls what danger comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, and from overworking. Do not let her overstudy. If she complains of headach, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, make life easier for her. She needs thoughtful care for a few years.

In all such cases Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be given as it is especially adapted for such conditions. It contains nothing that can injure and can be taken in perfect safety.

Read how Mrs. Eicher helped her daughter. She says: "At the age of sixteen my daughter was having trouble every month. She had pains across her back and in her sides. Every month her back would pain her so she could not do her work and would have to lie down. My married daughter recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I read the books which were left at my door. She took it faithfully and is now regular and has no pain. We recommend the Vegetable Compound and give you permission to publish this letter in your little books and in the newspapers."—Mrs. KATIE EICHER, 4034 N. Fairhill St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Williams will profit by her own experience. She says: "When I was thirteen years old I had sick spells each month and as I was very backward I would bear the pain and my mother knew nothing about it. I read in the daily paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took my own spending money and bought a bottle. It helped me so much that I took it regularly after that until I had taken two bottles and I did not have any more pain or backache and have been a healthy, strong woman. I am now 39 years old and have a little girl of my own, and when she gets old enough I shall give her none other than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. C. E. WILLIAMS, 2437 W. Toronto St., Philadelphia, Pa.

For almost fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been relieving women, young and old, of ailments peculiar to their sex. Ask your neighbor about it, for in every neighborhood there are women who know of its merits.

Thousands of letters similar to the above are in the files of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., and for years such letters have been published. Surely it is worth your while to make a fair trial of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

SCHLAFER RETURNS FROM ALASKAN TRIP

Appleton Man Is Impressed With Great Quantities of Pulpwood in North.

"The first shipment of pulp ever sent out of Alaska," said O. P. Schlafer, "was part of the cargo of the vessel on which we took passage from Ketchikan to Seattle, Wash. It consisted of 100 tons and was manufactured by the Spruce River Pulp Co. of Juneau, Alaska, and was part of the first run of the only pulp mill in Alaska."

"The new plant has been in operation for only a short time but it has large quantities of pulp ready for shipment. The shipments have been delayed by reason of excessive freight rates to Seattle which I understood had just been reduced from $9 to $5 per ton. I did not visit the new plant which is said to be built in the heart of a spruce wood district."

Return Wednesday
Mr. Schlafer's party, consisting of himself and Mrs. Schlafer and daughter, Mrs. L. J. DeLong and son arrived in Appleton Wednesday.

On his homeward trip Mr. Schlafer became acquainted with a former resident of Merrill, Wis., who has been engaged in fox farming on an island off the coast of Alaska for several years. During the war the skins of the particular fox he breeds brought $300 each but the price has since dropped to $100. The island is heavily wooded and consists of several hundred acres. He started breeding the animals with ten pairs and now has several hundred. The owner and two assistants patrol the shores of the island constantly.

The boat on which Mr. Schlafer and his party returned to the States was the last to leave Alaska before the engineers' strike went into effect. The party reached Seattle five hours after the strike was called.

"Alaska has an almost inexhaustible supply of pulpwood none of which has ever been used until this new mill started up," Mr. Schlafer said. "I got acquainted with C. T. Gardner, a government official who has charge of a district comprising 15,000,000 acres, a great portion of which is heavily wooded with spruce and all other kinds of timber, only 27,000 acres of which have so far been sold to private individuals. As yet there are no paper mills in Alaska, but the indications are that several will soon be built."

"The present business depression in the United States extends to Alaska and no city in the country feels it more than Ketchikan. Salmon fishing is the principal industry and the great canning plants are all closed and the majority of them will remain closed throughout the season. It is only those that have a supply of empty cans on hand that intend to keep up and they will close down as soon as they fill them."

KILBANE GIVES A FEW POINTERS ON HOW TO REFEREE

Edgren or Graney Is His Choice to Officiate in New Jersey Scrap.

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
Featherweight Champion

The task of selecting a referee for the Dempsey-Carpenter fight, in my opinion, is going to be a difficult one if the New Jersey officials insist that a Jerseyman be chosen.

If, on the other hand, the principals are given free rein no better man than Bob Edgren, the stakeholder and general arbiter of conditions surrounding the articles, could be found. Edgren has been a student of boxing for years, has a cool head, a good eye and keen judgment and with it the ability of a trained athlete to get around the ring. Eddie Graney of California, probably as finished a referee as ever ordered a pair of fighters to break and who can tell off the seconds with the accuracy of a split-second watch, is another good man. The late Jack McGuigan of Philadelphia would have been another good "third man," as he knew every angle of the game.

Danger in Referees

The trouble with our referees of today is that they are chosen more as a favor than for their ability. Instead of being named because of their skill, they are chosen because they stand well with the principals and the managers and the promoter, their knowledge of the duties of a referee and of the rules, as they are now interpreted, should be taken into consideration. The fact that a man has witnessed many fights, has hobnobbed with fighters, managers and promoters does not make a competent referee of him.

What is needed is not a big fat fellow whose sole claim to fame is based upon the brand of rum that he may have sold before the country dried up and almost blew him away, but an active man with a ring brain. Edgren and Graney represent the highest type of the latter class.

Few Know How

Few referees of today know how to handle the boxers. They have no right to tell a boxer when and how to fight or to hinder him in the clinch. If a boxer is deliberately running away from a fight the referee has the power to disqualify him, but if he is showing skill and generalship in warding off the attack of a dangerous opponent or playing around for an opening, the referee has no right to tell him to "Say, kid, if you don't fight pretty soon I'll throw you out of the ring."

Nor has the referee the right, when one man is holding with both hands and the other is fighting with one free arm to grab each by an arm and tear them apart as though he were splitting a couple of sheets of sticky flypaper. The man holding with both hands can be warned and if he continues to offend he can be disqualified, but there is no need of grabbing both men and hurling them to different sides of the ring, or, by chance, of turning one man as to leave him in position to receive a possible knock-out punch from his opponent.

Graney Shone

If the boxers can be convinced that the referee means business when he talks of disqualification there will be little holding. That is where Graney shone as a referee. He never went between the boxers. In fact, he rarely took his hands from behind his back. If they were locked he would say quietly and suavely, "Now, break like gentlemen, boys," and they broke, but if one failed to heed the warning he would say just as pleasantly to the offender, at the same time tapping him lightly on the shoulder, "Break, break, break, break," and the boy to whom he spoke knew that the next offense meant disqualification.

Another great fault of the present day referee is his proneness to play to the gallery. He prefers to satisfy the house rather than to give the boxers a right deal. If a couple of boxers go in and slug their heads off for two or three rounds and then are forced, by exhaustion, to take a rest, the bloodthirsty and uninitiated immediately jump to the conclusion that they are taking and begin to howl for more blood. The referee, in too many cases, unmindful of the condition of the boxers, but wishing to win favor with the yelpers, barks at the leg, lung and arm-wearers boys, "Garn an' fight or outcha go." Only a few referees, one who does not know and who does not care, for the sport for the sport's sake, will do that, but unfortunately there are many of that brand.

If it were left to me, I would compel every man who aspired to become a referee, to go through a thorough course of mental and physical training—mental training to give him judgment and knowledge of the rules and physical training to take it possible for him to get out of his own way when the going is fast and to be able to step around the ring at all times in order that all of the spectators may see what is going on within the ropes.

ZBYSZKO WINS FIRST BOUT SINCE GAINING MAT TITLE

By United Press Leased Wire
Columbus, Ohio — Stanislaus Zbyszko's newly won heavyweight wrestling crown was still in place Thursday.

The Pole twisted championship aspirations of George Kotsionaris out of shape with a toe hold in two falls here last night. The first pinning came after 55 minutes of fusing and the second after 13 minutes.

Rookie Fills Groh's Shoes With Reds

Sammy Bohne, who is crowding Heinie Groh out of picture

Pat Moran has a knack of picking brilliant third basemen.

In Sammy Bohne, Coast league recruit, he has unearthed another jewel.

Getting a man who could fill the shoes of the great Heinie Groh seemed impossible.

But the rookie Red has cut the buck.

He fields brilliantly. He is a dangerous hitter. His speed on the bases is helping the run column of the team. Coupled with these baseball essentials he possesses an ideal third base temperament.

Groh is still a holdout. He has declared he'll never play in Cincinnati again.

Even should he rejoin the team he would not find the third base job open for him.

Moran had planned to use Groh on second this year to get him away from close contact to third base fans, who were riding the high-spirited star.

So Groh is fading still further out of the big league picture as his substitute gathers the plaudits.

Bohne is 25. He had a brief trial with the White Sox in 1915. In 1916 he finished out the season with the St. Louis Cards.

Since then he has been stepping around in American Association and Coast league company.

He hit .333 with Seattle in 1920 and stole 42 bases.

In 19 games with the Reds he has hit .257 and stole six bases. He's leading the league in the base-stealing department.

OSHKOSH TO HAVE GOLF TOURNEY FOR LAWYERS

Members of the state bar association living in Outagamie county will be asked to participate in a lawyers' golf tournament which is being arranged for June 16 and 17 in Oshkosh by the Oshkosh Country club. One of the special features will be a dinner for the visiting attorneys. There will also be some evening events with card games at a feature.

It is expected that nearly the entire membership of the supreme court will attend, as well as large numbers of lawyers from all parts of the Fox River valley. The general committee is headed by George Hilton, chairman, John C. Thompson, president of the state association, G. A. Buckstaff, George E. Williams, Charles Nevitt and Ben Hooper.

EXPECT 100 MEN TO TAKE PART IN H. S. TRACK MEET

Revival of Lawrence Meet Re-creates Interest in Spring Games.

Saturday, May 21, will be one of the most interesting days at Lawrence college in many years. The district interscholastic track and field meet is to be revived in the afternoon and the state oratorical and extemporaneous speaking contest will be held in the morning. These two events will be the climax of a week of unusual activities.

Preparations are being rushed for the track and field meet which is expected to attract the pink of high school athletes in the eastern part of the state. All entries must be made before May 16 and it is believed that more than 100 students will have registered by that time.

The program will be of exceptional interest, including all events from the 100 yard dash to the long relays. Prizes of gold, silver and bronze medals will be given to winners in each event. In addition there will be a silver loving cup for the school winning the greatest number of points; a silver loving cup for the team winning the relay and a shield or cup for the student winning the largest number of points.

One result of this meet is a revival of interest in field and track sports. No so many years ago high schools in this locality held dual meets and developed really excellent athletes. All the training was for the purpose of winning places in the Lawrence meet and when that classic was abandoned interest in track and field sports waned. Now, however, there is a marked increase in the great spring outdoor game, not only in Appleton but over the entire district.

It is believed that many of the winners in the district meet will take part in state contest to be held in Madison the week following. The state meet is not limited to winners in district contests but it is believed only those athletes who have made good showings here will be entered at Madison.

Lawrence college track and field team will hold a dual meet with Oshkosh normal school Friday afternoon, May 20, the day preceding the high school events.

association was awarded to the Fox River Country club of Green Bay and will be held Aug. 11, 12 and 13.

H. O. Fairchild, Green Bay, was re-elected president of the association and all other officers also were re-elected. The annual dues of the organization were raised from $30 to $35.

BRITISH SEE MORE SPORT TITLES SLIP INTO HANDS OF U. S.

Polo Team, Golfers and Tennis Stars Begin Invasion of British Isles.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—America's polo team now getting ready for the international cup matches in England is making a most impressive showing.

Devereaux Milburne's four won the first three practice matches in a style that has opened the eyes of the British sportsmen.

While the teams played aren't of the class that will defend the cup next month, the Americans have been in good combinations and have shown fine form by piling up big scores.

Press comment from the other side indicates that the British are none too sure that the cup will not be brought back to America.

Captain Milburne and his men are not boasting. They are telling interviewers that they have a fair chance to win.

The same lack of bragging that the British have come to accept as a part of the American makeup has been carried out by the amateur golf team.

Some surprise was expressed in the British papers when Francis Ouimet and Bobby Jones said they had just about an even chance to win the British amateur title.

Concern entertained by the British over the golf championship is expressed in the words of a prominent English player who said when it became sure that Chick Evans and Ouimet would play:

"There goes two more champion ships."

William T. Tilden, winner of the British national tennis championship last year, sailed Thursday to defend his title in this year's tournament.

After seeing the tall Philadelphia in action last year and watching his progress through the Davis cup matches, the British are frank to admit that only a great reversal of form can prevent him from repeating.

Insider Says

Stanislaus Zbyszko won the mat title in his bare feet.

Clarence Rowland, manager of the Columbus team, will get a bonus if he makes a good showing. His bonus is to be stock in the club.

Bill Tilden, tennis champion, says that he has been beaten more often than any other player. That happened when he was a kid.

Whether left-handed pitchers are effective or not depends on the men to whom the hands are attached.

Boxers, who hit hardest, get fewer challenges than the glove tappers.

Watchful waiting is the only way fans can cope the Babe Ruth-George Kelly home run race.

Yale takes the same stand against razzing opposing players that Tris Speaker does. "Down with the fog horns," they say.

It is costing Heinie Groh money to nurse his dignity. Heinie would be drawing a $12,000 salary from the Reds if he was tougher skinned.

Scott Perry will not have another party until he wins a game for the lowly A's.

Willard couldn't understand why people bet on Dempsey, but he found out.

Dempsey boasts a "straight front." That's where he has it on Babe Ruth.

Pop Anson admits that Ruth and Kelly would have been classed as sluggers even in his day.

Baseball is booming in this neck of the woods. It seems as if every village and town is represented on the diamond this season. Many of the rural communities are putting up new parks this year with a grandstand and everything and what's more they are opening the purse strings in order to place fast going aggregations in the field. Old King Baseball is staging a great little comeback in this part of the Badger state.

Atlantic City is going wild over Jack Dempsey and the heavyweight champion is having honors galore heaped upon him. The Board Walk city has made Dempsey an honorary member of the police force and given him all privileges that go with the job. Dempsey struck up quite a friendship with Mayor Bador and it is said that they are hanging around together like a couple of school boy pals.

Detroit's 2 to 1 victory over the Yanks.

Mulrenan's wildness and careless playing enabled the Red Sox to beat the White Sox, 3 to 2.

Wrightstone and Williams hit homers but the Cubs rapped out eight doubles and beat the Phillies, 19 to 8.

Moore's base on balls paved the way for the run that enabled the Browns to beat the Athletics, 1 to 0.

Jimmy Johnston's home run was the deciding factor in the 5 to 4 victory of the Robins over the Reds.

Fred Toney had too much stuff for the Cardinals and the Giants hitting Doak opportunely won, 4 to 1.

Jack Dempsey's Career

(This is the first of a series of stories by Hal Cochran, noted sports writer, on the life of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight pugilist of the world.)

Tale of a Hobo
BY HAL COCHRAN

This might be the story of a champion peach picker, the history of a miner, or the tale of a hobo.

But it just naturally leads into the rise to fistic fame of one William Harrison Dempsey.

About 10 years after Hiram Dempsey, erstwhile school teacher of Logan, W. Va., moved to the San Luis Valley of Colorado, the stork paid a visit to the little Dempsey ranch, between Antonito and Manassa. Then it was—June 24, 1895—that William Harrison Dempsey first saw the light of day.

In the early days of his life William got bits of schooling here and there, and plenty of outdoors and fresh air. It was the latter that played a big part in his growing into the husky of the family.

Handy With Mitts

When the Dempsey tribe moved to Montrose, on the western slope of Colorado, dad and mother Dempsey had six boys. They were all handy with their mitts, sometimes at milking, sometimes at peach picking, but most of the time in an athletic way.

If there was a baseball game, a football misplay, a wrestling affair or a boxing go in the neighborhood, it was a safe bet that the six Dempseys would be on deck. William and Bernard, an older brother, usually came out on top.

Bernard leaned strongly to fistic encounters and finally dropped his own first name, prefixed that of the once famous Jack Dempsey, "Nonpareil," and stepped out into the surrounding country to take on other fighters.

Bernard Fizzes Out

William watched Bernard in a lot of his battles, and he saw his older brother fizzle out as a prizefighter.

In the meantime there was alfalfa to be cut, freestones to be picked, and cattle to be cared for on the Dempsey ranch. William was long on the peach end of it, but managed to slip away for an occasional fight with some kid in the town of Montrose.

Success finally prompted William to grab off the title of "Jack," dropped by his brother, and he forth to conquer amateur battlers in other towns. Jack had no money, so he took a "private car" to Delta, Colo.

Jack Burns on a Freight

"It was soft pickin'," as Jack now recalls it. "I simply hopped into an empty freight car when nobody was looking."

This ride, as after events will show, was the first of many that went to make up the hobo, catch-as-catch-can, adventure portion of Dempsey's rough and tumble career.

Delta held Jack's interest for but a short time. He battled in a few bouts, picked up some odd change picking peaches and finally headed for Lakeview, Utah, where his family had moved in the meantime. Jack had had visions of a real money bout, for some time. He soon climbed another freight and landed in Montrose. In short notice a go was arranged—his first real coin encounter.

(The next story finds Dempsey a matchmaker, promoter and principal in the first match he got any coin out of.)

Miss Hilda Adams has resumed her duties at the office of the Aid Association for Lutherans, following an illness of two weeks.

TONIGHT ARIEL ORCHESTRA AT WAVERLY DANCE.

BADGERS PLAY ILLINOIS IN MADISON SATURDAY

Madison.—Two heavy hitting teams will meet at Camp Randall Saturday afternoon, when the universities of Illinois and Wisconsin play the second game of the 1921 conference baseball season to be held at Camp Randall.

Illinois boasts of four of the best pitchers in the Big Ten. Burns, Johnson, McCann and Banks. Wisconsin balances things on the mound with Paddock, Bill Williams, Al Miller and Hoffman.

Coach Lowman is printing his squad to meet the champions of last year by daily scrimmages against the freshman nine.

The Illini are recognized as sluggers, but Lowman has a well balanced squad, active on the bases and handy with a bat. In the Purdue game last Saturday, six men hit safe, Farrington, Elliott and Reudiger hitting twice against Lefty Wagner, while the visitors got but one hit off Paddock and two off Williams.

Beating the Southern Pacific's Fastest Limited

The Shasta Limited is the fastest train traveling over the 751 miles of magnificent track between San Francisco and Portland.

But Buick clipped 44 minutes off the best time ever made by this train.

A stock 1921 Buick Coupe on January 7th and 8th performed this remarkable feat. Conquering frozen roads and mud holes, winding mountain roads and rocky canyons, Buick once again demonstrated its characteristic inbuilt power, endurance and reliability.

The time of 29 hours, 16 minutes has never been equalled in a trip on land between these two Pacific Coast cities.

CITY OFFICIALS
HELP KILL BILL

Favor Continued Regulation of Public Utilities by Railroad Commission.

Appleton and Kimberly were among the cities and villages of Wisconsin that were personally represented at hearings in Madison when the bill was up for consideration proposing abolition of the railroad commission. No support was given the bill, indicating the wishes of officials to have public utilities regulated by the commission as in the past. The last of the series of bills abolishing the commission was crushed by the avalanche of opposition.

The joint committee of the senate and assembly which held a public hearing on the bill heard from nearly every city in Wisconsin either directly through their mayors, city attorneys, civic associations or by representation of Ford MacGregor, secretary of the League of Municipalities.

"Not one city in Wisconsin, though in nearly all utility rates have been increased, is appearing before the committee in support of the bill to abolish the commission," said Mr. MacGregor to the joint committee.

The records of R. P. White, clerk of the committee, show that nine cities were personally represented at the hearing, four civic associations and five banks by telegrams or letters. Among the cities represented were Superior, Ashland, Janesville, Manitowish, Fond du Lac, Eau Claire, Wausau, Cudahy, Milwaukee, Appleton, Sheboygan, Kimberly and Oshkosh. The rest voiced their opposition through Mr. MacGregor.

Among the principal speakers against the bill were A. W. Sanborn, who was a member of the senate at the time the utility law was enacted, and A. J. Frame, chairman of the Wisconsin Board of Conciliation. Mr. Sanborn told the legislators that the legislature which enacted the utility law spent several months in investigating before passing it. He warned the legislature not to give the Railroad Commissioners the impression that they must obey popular clamor or be discharged.

Mr. Frame said utilities did not go into bankruptcy because of an inability to pay dividends, but because their earnings were not sufficient to pay interest on their bonds.

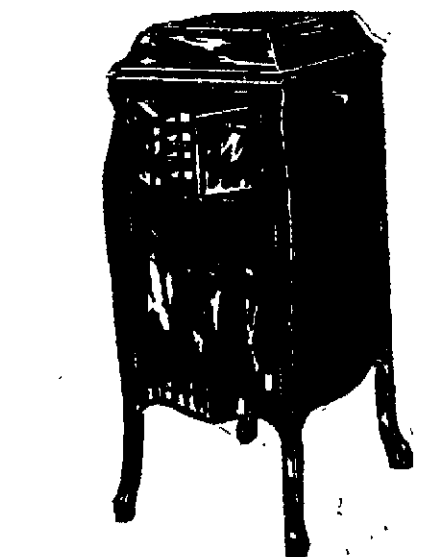

The only person who argued for the bill was the author himself, and after he had listened to the talks he told members of the committee he would be happy if only that portion of his bill were retained which prohibited excessive dividends to stockholders.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR GIRLS TRACK MEET

Final arrangements have been made for the field meet of the Camp-Fire and Girl Scout troops of the recreation department of Appleton Women's club which will be held Saturday afternoon at Jones park. A splendid pennant is the trophy to be awarded to the troop winning the largest number of points. The pennant will be displayed Thursday or Friday. Another pennant will be awarded to the group making the best appearance and conduct record for the day. Smaller pennants are offered individual winners in the target throwing contest, basketball, throwing contest, running, broad jump, hop-step-jump, and the 50-yard dash. Stripes may be awarded to the individuals in the winning teams in the group relay contests.

Miss Adelaide McKee is marshal of the day and is working out the point schedule and the program of events.

The girls will meet at 1:30 at the club rooms and march to Jones park in a body. If the weather is unfavorable the meet will be held in the high school gymnasium. All girls will carry their baskets of lunch and a picnic supper will be a feature of the day. A song contest will conclude the events.

COMPILE HISTORY OF BADGER JEWS

Local Cooperation Asked to Gather Data—Appleton to Have Chapter.

Appleton Jewish people are to be allotted a special chapter in a history of the Jews in Wisconsin, which is being edited by Isadore S. Horwitz, Milwaukee, editor of the Jewish Daily Worker, and Milwaukee Wochenblatt, only two Jewish papers in Wisconsin. The publication is to be issued in commemoration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the issuance of the charter by the state legislature to the city of Milwaukee.

More than 10,000 Jews live in Wisconsin, it is estimated by Mr. Horwitz. This figure is proved by the fact that not less than 1,500 Israelites from 122 cities, towns and villages of the state were enlisted or drafted for the World war up to Armistice day.

The first Jew to settle in Wisconsin was Jacob Franks, an employee of the Canadian Fur company, who established a trading station in Green Bay in 1794. In 1804 Mr. Franks erected a sawmill, said to be one of the first in this part of the country. Mr. Lave, a nephew of Mr. Franks, who came to the Presbyterian missionaries to his home in Green Bay and assisted them in forming the first Presbyterian mission house in the state. Garfield Shorer and his brother established a store on East Water-st., Milwaukee, in 1845, believed to be the first in the state.

Old Appleton settlers or others, Jewish or Gentile, who remember early day happenings with a bearing on Jewish activities, or who possess newspaper articles, clippings or manuscripts dealing with the Jews of Appleton or elsewhere are asked to mail them or communicate with the publishing office at 827 Walnut-st., Milwaukee.

Kills Polecat
An autoist traveling between Menasha and Appleton killed a polecat Friday evening, perhaps without knowing that he had done it. The body of the obnoxious little animal was lying along the road Wednesday morning and drivers are wondering who encountered it during the night.

CERTIFICATES FOR AMATEUR RADIOISTS

Albert Timm was elected president of Appleton Y Radio club at the closing meeting of the season Wednesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. Others elected were Dallas Jansen, vice president; Harry Leith, secretary and publicity man; Henry Johnston, treasurer.

The club is to resume meetings the first Wednesday in October. A larger attendance and increased activities will be the aim for the new season. Following examinations conducted last week by Elmer Erickson, radio instructor, certificates were issued to nine amateur operators. First class rank was given to Robert Thompson, Anton Rank and John Harriman; second class to Carl Thompson, Benjamin Wadsworth, Henry Johnston, Dallas Jansen, Harry Leith and Albert Timm.

Some of these young men are qualified to accept positions as wireless operators through experience gained with home sets and the instruction received as members of the club.

Mrs. Frank Greenwood of Iron River, Mich., is visiting Appleton relatives.

U. S. TO TRAIN BADGER
RADIOISTS AT SHERIDAN

Amateur radioists will be aided soon in their instruction and practice by the army signal corps. Instruments for the sixth corps area, including Wisconsin, are being installed at Fort Sheridan, for wireless telephone and telegraph service.

Opportunity will be offered amateurs shortly to enlist in the signal corps and to take wire or correspondence courses. Operators are to be trained in all parts of the country for emergency service in case of war.

Regulations will be published soon covering commissioning of reserve officers. Those entering the army reserve probably will be called to active service for approximately two weeks' camp during the summer of 1922. Questionnaires are being mailed to operators and others asking expressions concerning the proposed courses of instruction.

PARADE WILL FEATURE
MAY DAY FESTIVITIES

All of the organizations of Lawrence college are busy preparing floats for the parade which will be arranged for 10 o'clock on May 20, annual May day. About 20 floats will make up the procession, including one prepared by the faculty. The various works of art are to be typical of the organization represented. The Lawrence college band is practicing in order to be ready to lead the procession.

The cleverest of students have been captured and given intensive training in the antics of clowns and will be ready to exhibit their little stunts along the line of march.
